I am presently against the existing redevelopment plan for The Hickory Village Center which is based on past redevelopment plans in other village centers that KIMCO now owns/manages. I know that things need to always change to keep up with current needs but, after looking at the redevelopment of Wilde Lake Village Center by KIMCO, the center lost its Giant supermarket, several other long time businesses, such as a bank, fast food restaurants, and parking spaces. KIMCO systematically gets existing stores to leave the centers by raising rents or other demands whereby it is no longer profitable. This often takes several years where there are so many vacant stores that individuals find that it is more convenient to shop elsewhere. KIMCO stated that with the redevelopment, new businesses would open because of the apartments that would be built. The only things that happen are that there is less parking spaces close to the existing stores and they have a hard time finding new establishments willing to open.
